

Save while simplifying your Supplier Network

If you need a specific product but can't find it on VWR.com you now have access to a simple click-to-source solution!

CAN'T FIND WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR?

Avantor MarketSource offers non-catalog lab products to enable you to buy what you need all from one place! This service reduces your vendor base and, consequently, your vendor management and set-up time and costs.

Easily access our click-to-source open requisition form!

If your vwr.com search doesn't find the products you need... you will likely see our "no results" page. Select the Open Requisition form button. It can also be found via the left navigation bar or under "My Account".

Simply fill out the open requisition form with the product information you have (you can enter multiple requests in one form!) and click enter to submit.

You will receive an email confirmation of the request and your open requisition will be converted into a quote that can be used to order the items on vwr.com.
